

Petition against converting the Redd Hill Park to a dog park

The city is considering converting the park on the corner of Redd Hill and Fountain View Lane to a dog park. This would require a chain link fenced enclosure built in the park to allow dogs to run without being on a leash. Dog owners from all over the city would be able to use the facility. Dogs are already allowed to be in the park, but must be on leashes, according to the Clark County dog leash ordinance. The purpose for the ordinance is for the public's safety.

A small group of selfish people (about 10) who do not want to comply with the leash ordinance are trying to get the City to modify the park for their convenience without regard for the people who live and own homes in the area. These people violate the ordinance daily.

There is already a dog park in the City on South Second St. Also, the City does have other alternatives for building an additional dog park that would not have a negative impact on the local home owners.

The negative effects on our neighborhood would be:

- An increase in the noise from barking dogs
- An increase in traffic
- The continuous smell of dog feces
- An unsightly detriment to the value of our neighborhood property values

The grass within the enclosure would soon be gone and we would end up with a large chain link barren enclosure in our neighborhood. It would eventually limit the use of the park to only dog owners who do not want to put their dogs on leashes.

This would be a detriment to the value of our properties.

Carol,

Please include me in the petition to stop the conversion of Redd Hill Park into a citywide dog park. I, too, share concern such a conversion could negatively impact my property's value with increased traffic and unattractive fencing, not to mention the unfavorable impact to the park's charm as it now exists.
